

A Pedagogy of Relations: MATERIALITY AND LEARNING

June 2017

The REANZ network is pleased to offer teachers across New Zealand the opportunity to hear from and engage with Margo Hobba and Chris Celada. Margo and Chris bring to our shores a wealth of wisdom and in-depth understanding of the principles of Reggio Emilia, the notion of epistemology- 'building knowledge' -and the way in which children build their knowledge and carry out research. They have both had long careers in early childhood and tertiary education. Based on their studies around the educational project in Reggio Emilia and working on from their previous project Teachers IN research with children they will be facilitating:

A Pedagogy of Relations: MATERIALITY AND LEARNING A series of evening workshops across New Zealand
